

Drink Coca-Cola
DELICIOUS AND REFRESHING
No game is finished right 'till thirst is quenched.
THE COCA-COLA COMPANY
Atlanta, Ga.

Days of Unclaimed Herds of Livestock Roaming Lower Valley and of Ox Cart Trains to Monterey Recalled

Extracts made by H. T. Merriman from the Corpus Christi Gazette, published by Bernard & Son, March 15, 1875—4 years ago:

Thieves Poring Rumintos.—Mr. John B. Oliver, born from a letter he has just received that the country lying between Aransas, Colorado and Brownsville is entirely covered with thick jungle. Among the broad paths there are paths, sometimes so narrow that it is hard to pass over them. How much longer our stockmen propose to put up with proceedings of this kind is more than we can tell.

Trade of Texas Carts.—We noticed the arrival yesterday of a train of thirty carts loaded with 40,000 pounds of wool and mohair from the interior of Mexico. They came from Monterrey, Durango & Chihuahua of this city, for shipment to New York. This trade is rapidly increasing.

Short Hissell accidentally.—A young man named Rufus Clark, aged 18 years, accidentally shot himself in the head while camping about four miles below the town of San Patricio and had a dangerous. In his endeavoring to blow out the muzzle of the pistol just off, starting the upper part of his head. He lived until evening when he succumbed.

Small Pros.—Every cottage master gives notice that two cases of small pros have been taken from the store of Andrew G. Jordan, at the corner of H. Jordan and that a fine horse has been placed therein as a warning. It is recommended that all persons be vaccinated at once, and that parents keep their children home from school until the danger is over. The physicians of the city kindly offer to vaccinate free of charge all persons not able to pay.

Claims amount to Ten Million Dollars.—The U. S. Commission left Corpus Christi for Laredo on last Wednesday, where they will hold a session of one week's duration. While here they transmitted a large amount of Spanish Summons obtained from the Consuls of Germany, France, Britain, Italy, Holland and Russia were to attend. Claims were filed approximating ten million dollars. The final result of the commission will be held in San Antonio.

Col. Nelson Palley.—This gentleman has been the successful applicant for the place of collector of customs for the port of Corpus Christi. His confirmation on the date which has now passed is personal and mutual friends has produced at the same time a very evident depression in the feelings of the friends of the defeated applicants. Our sympathies can rightly be given to another gentleman, but his defeat is not a "slight matter." A disengaged attachment which is far removed from the family of the party—such as a man infected with sinfulness—they know he will be much better after his conversion.

Holy and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

Col. Chase, Louisville, died.—Col. Chase, Louisville, died Feb. 18th, at the age of 70 years. He was a prominent business man.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.

High and Ladie Company Organized.—A meeting of the citizens held in the market hall on the 1st of February, 1873, to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the formation of a Holy and Ladie Company which has now passed.

John A. Glezer offers some very valuable property in San Diego.—John A. Glezer, a prominent citizen of San Diego, who recently returned from Europe, offers his residence, which is always supplied with choice goods.

The Presbyterians of our city expect their church hall on the southwest corner, after an absence of seven or eight months, back again to the day of Peter Bergman's election.

E. W. Shaffner.—One of our largest wool dealers is preparing to sell his flock of 10,000 sheep.

N. Gould.—N. Gould, from New York, where he has been acquiring property for the purpose of a large stock of cattle in the market.

Our Friend Edward Wiedman.—Our friend Edward Wiedman, merchant from Rio Grande City, is engaged in his San Graciano business more than ever.